Subject: Cell Tower

I am of the opinion that the drivers behind the initiative to stop the cell tower are more concerned with their business interests rather than the safety of children as their placards indicate. I live down the street from the B and B which is worried about the view from their backyard when the tower is built. We can't always trust government but we must have some degree of faith in the system that this does not pose a microwave or radiation hazard to the area. This is truly a case of NIMBY.
